Nelson, who is in the drug business at Kingville, Mo., has so much confidence in Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy that he warrants every bottle and offers to refund the money to any customer who is not satisfied after using it. Go to Hammond's for BARKING.

Last June Dick Crawford brought his twelve-months-old child, suffering from infantile diarrhea, to me. It had been weaned at four months old and had always been sickly. I gave it the usual treatment in such cases but without benefit. The child kept growing thinner until it weighed but little more than when born, or perhaps ten pounds. I then started the father to giving Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy. Before one bottle of the 25-cent size had been used a marked improvement was seen and its continued use cured the child. Its weakness and puny constitution disappeared and its father and myself believe the child's life was saved by this remedy. J. T. Manlow, M. D., Tamaroa, Ill. For sale by all druggists.

The test will be severe. The attack will first be made with a six inch gun and will be continued until the largest sized gun—a 13-inch bore—is reached. A test will also be made of a plated structure representing the side of a ship. The Ordnance Bureau expects to obtain much valuable information from the test and the experiments are looked for with much interest.

Chief Engineer George W. Baird, United States Navy, was to-day, by direction of President Cleveland, assigned to the duties of Superintendent of the State, War and Navy Building, relieving Chief Engineer Thom Williamson, who will be placed on the retired list next week.

A STORMY SESSION.

The Chamber of Deputies was the Scene of a Bitter Fight.

By Southern Associated Press.

Rome, July 30.—To-day's sitting of the Chamber of Deputies was an extremely stormy one. In the course of the debate the budget Signor Imbriani, the leader of the Radicals, made a bitter attack upon the grants for the maintenance of the Royal household. He was frequently interrupted by protesting Deputies, and in the latter part of his speech was drowned by cheers for the King.

Afterwards in the debate on the item on the budget appropriating money for the ministry of the interior, Signor Vandemini, a Radical, declared that the extreme Left would not discuss the budget of a minister who was under charges and undergoing trial for irregularities if for nothing worse.

Several members of the majority angrily protested against Vandemini's language and Premier Crispi twice shouted "Infamous!" The Radical and Socialist Deputies were finally shouted down and finding themselves powerless against the majority the members of those parties, with the single exception of Signor Bovio, Socialist, walked out of the Chamber.

Fat and So Happy!

Nobody can do this who has dyspepsia. Even a light meal eaten with relief induces more or less torture upon the stomach. It is a time of agonies. But why allow one's self to be thus victimized when success in the shape of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters can be obtained? If you are going to any local city—a remote country town house, or new settlement, for instance, where it is not readily procurable, provide yourself in advance with an adequate supply. An unaccustomed diet is very apt to produce dyspepsia and is brackish water aboard ship and the eating of acid fruits. Forestal further enervation of the complaint. Such a superabundant genial corrective and preventive. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, biliousness, constipation, malaria, rheumatism and kidney trouble promptly submerge to the onset of this vanisher of bodily ailments and restorative of vigor.

One hundred rolls new matting received to day. Neat, handsome patterns very cheap. Call to see it. Carpets, rugs, oil cloth, etc., at J. S. Crawford's Furniture house.

Impure blood is the cause of boils, pimples and other eruptions. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and cures these troubles.

A horse kicked H. S. Shaffer, of the Freemyer House, Middleburg, N. Y., on the knee, which laid him up in bed and caused the knee joint to become stiff. A friend recommended him to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which he did, and in two days was able to be around. Mr. Shaffer has recommended it to many others and says it is excellent for any kind of a bruise or sprain. This same remedy is also famous for its cures of rheumatism. For sale by all druggists.

RICHMOND NEWS AND GOSSIP

What Is Going on in and Around the Capital City.

The Police Court Room Packed to Hear the Sunday Cases. Great Interest Manifested. The Case of Slander Against a Well-Known Richmond Lady.

Special Dispatch to the Virginian.

RICHMOND, Va., July 30.—The Police Court room was packed to its fullest capacity to-day, and many people were unable to gain admittance. All of the cases of violations of the Sunday law were called. Some few were continued. All the bar keepers reported were fined $25 each and sent on to the grand jury except one, and in his case it was not proven that he sold liquor. The street car companies got off free, as their counsel satisfied the court that these cars were exempted from the operations of the law.

The Dispatch and Times were all fined $2 and costs and took an appeal to the Hastings Court. They made no fight before Justice Crutwell as it was their desire to get the matter before a higher court. May Charles S. Stringfellow is counsel for these two newspapers. In the case of Felix Keegan, charged with keeping his bar at the Hotel Lexington open, he stated that he had been told by officer Redford that he could furnish drinks to the guests of the hotel in their rooms. Redford said Capt. Aule gave him authority for what he did and the Captain stated that the Chief authorized him to give such an order. The Chief said he had been misunderstood. Keegan got off free.

A suit that is likely to attract much attention here and throughout the State was brought to-day. Miss Louise H. Gibson wants $10,000 damages for alleged slander from Mr. and Mrs. Thos. J. Todd. Miss Gibson is a pretty young woman and was, until March last, a saleslady for Miller & Rhoads. Mr. Todd is a wealthy gentleman and resides on West Grace street.

He and his wife are members of Grace Street Baptist Church, of which Rev. Dr. R. E. Hatcher is pastor. Last March, it is alleged, Mrs. Todd went to Miller & Rhoads and complained that Miss Gibson had said she had caught Mrs. Hatcher stealing articles in the store and asked for the young lady's discharge. Miss Gibson declared she had never made to any one the statement attributed to her nor had she heard of it before. Mrs. Todd insisted that the saleslady had spread the report about the pastor's wife and the firm reluctantly called for and accepted Miss Gibson's resignation.

They wrote her a letter saying she had given entire satisfaction; they dispensed with her services solely for the season, that Mrs. Todd, representing a large class of their trade, demanded it. Messrs. R. L. Montague and C. V. Meredith are counsel for the plaintiff, and Messrs. H. R. Pollard and Conway R. Sands will represent the defendants. Miss Gibson has been unable to secure a position in any other store since she left Miller & Rhoads, and she thinks Mrs. Todd has greatly injured her character.

The young lady still declares that she never said anything reflecting on Mrs. Hatcher; that she never, to her knowledge, waited on that lady, and does not know her by sight. The case will be hard fought on both sides. The Hatcher's are, of course, much grieved that their name will have to be dragged into the court.

THE INSURANCE CONSPIRACY.

Beaufort, N. C., in the Throes of Great Excitement.

By Southern Associated Press.

WILMINGTON, N. C., July 30.—Special to the Messenger from Morehead City, N. C., says:

The famous Beaufort life insurance conspiracy trial opened in a preliminary hearing here to-day before Justices of the Peace W. W. Willis and McCain with an imposing array of distinguished legal counsel on both sides. The trial warrant was issued by Justice Allen C. Davis, but the defense swore out a removal of the case from before him and Justice Willis was selected to preside with Justice Joshua Dennis as associate.

The case was then stated by the plaintiff and the charges specified and the witness sworn.

At this stage of the trial it developed that Justice Dennis was the son in law, a fact that he had adroitly withheld, of the arch conspirator Hassell. This precipitated a lengthy and spirited argument pro and con between the counsel, but resulted finally in Dennis withdrawing under heavy fire and McCain was selected.

The case was then opened de novo, and proceedings began. The bar and courtroom were packed with large numbers of defendants, the larger number of witnesses and scores of interested spectators. There are twenty-five cases of alleged fraudulent graveyard insurance pending at this trial, with as many individual defendants, and with C. R. Hassell and Noe, Delemar & Co., insurance agents, and Drs. T. B. Delemar and E. L. Perkins, examining physicians, figuring as the arch conspirators in every case.

The first case called was that involving the policies issued on the life of one Charles Arthur, a street beggar, now deceased, who, in his applications for insurance through the above agencies and in the examinations of the above physicians, was represented to be a man of good constitution, good health and splendid hereditary records, whereas, in truth and in fact, he was a walking skeleton at the time of said application and examinations and had been for more than two years previous afflicted with bowel consumption and a suit, and of which complaint he died within a few months after the issuance of said insurance policies, aggregating more than $3,000, and of which it is said he knew nothing. His application, signature and physical examinations being forgeries by the said agents and physicians aforesaid and their co-conspirators necessary to the required proofs of death in order to secure payments of assured policies. At this stage of the trial pending a spirited argument of counsel as to the admissibility of certain evidence bearing on the allegation of conspiracy, the court adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

A SWEET ELEPHANT.

How to Get Rid of 25,000,000 Gallons of Molasses—A Solution of the Dilemma.

There are 25,000,000 gallons of molasses stored in tanks on the various sugar plantations throughout Louisiana that is an elephant on the sugar planters' hands. They do not know what to do with it. They cannot sell it, for any profit in sight by its sale would be eaten up in transportation. Besides it would require a cool $500,000 to barrel it.

The question of what disposition to make of this molasses is a knotty one to the sugar planters, and at the last two meetings of their association no other subject has been discussed. The planters say that it is a problem that has to be solved, for before the next crop is taken off this surplus molasses has to be got rid of in order to make room for the new crop.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Perhaps the oddest pavement ever laid in one just completed at Chino, Cal. It is made mostly of molasses, and if it proves all of the success claimed for it it may point a way for the sugar planters of the south to profitably dispose of the millions of gallons of useless molasses which they are said to have on hand.

The head chemist of a sugar factory at Chino, Mr. E. Turke, was led to make certain experiments, of which the new sidewalk, a thousand feet long from the factory to the main street, is the result.

The molasses used is a refuse product hitherto believed to be of no value. It is simply mixed with a certain kind of sand to about the consistency of asphalt and laid like an asphalt pavement. The composition dries quickly and becomes quite hard and remains so. The peculiar point of it is that the sun only makes it drier and harder instead of softening it, as might be expected.

A block of the composition, two feet long, a foot wide, and an inch thick, was submitted to severe tests and stood them well. Laid with an inch or so of its edges only resting on supports, it withstood repeated blows of a machine hammer without showing any effects of cracking or bending.—New York Sun.

FOR A NEGRO TOWN.

Colored Population of the Twin City of Kansas Have a Novel Scheme.

There is a scheme on foot between leading colored citizens of the two Kansas Cities to select a town site on one of the railroads within ten miles of Kansas City, lay off a city and populate it with colored people who may desire to buy homes for themselves. The object is to afford a chance to the negro of living on his own land in preference to paying rentals. Such wealthy colored men as T. J. Grove of Edwardsville, Kan., and Charles Ewing of Loring, Kan., will be invited to invest their money for the benefit of the race.

The scheme is to purchase 800 acres of land in a body at prices ranging from $30 to $50 an acre. It is intended to set apart land for public buildings, park and cemetery, the remainder to be sold for $25 per lot of one-half acre each. The business portion of the town will be divided into lots 25 by 160 feet. Subscriptions will be solicited from all over the south.

After the town is platted arrangements will be made for cheap rates between the new city and Kansas City and the workmen who move their families to their new homes can get to their daily labor in Kansas City and get back to their homes every night at a rate as cheap as car fare. The projectors of the scheme intend to put 300 families in the new town to start with, and when they are joined by others outside capital will be invested and industries started.—Kansas City Times.
